

There is absolutely nothing to change on this. Everything else must be built to this same standard and layout. There are also no changes needed to the event details; they can remain as they are. It is perfect.

This layout should be adapted exactly as it is, including the features and everything else.

Note: I will provide the events, and you can already start loading them for next year while I investigate which events are confirmed for next year in our destinations. The required images and content will also be provided.
